

Ryerson University Nursing Degree Courses

Fall 2011 Term

CNUR 600 - Epidemiology

Location: York Central Hospital

Corequisite(s): CNUR 860

Prerequisite(s): CNUR 850 & CNUR 860

Sept. 15 - Dec. 8, 2011 - 4:30 pm - 6:30 pm

In this course, students will examine the principles and methods of epidemiology and apply these to selected populations. Major health problems across the lifespan and recommended intervention strategies will be explored from a primary, secondary, and tertiary perspective. How the nurse applies knowledge of epidemiology, when working with individuals, families, and communities, will be examined. Current literature and research findings will be utilized to direct discussion and analyze issues.

CNUR 831 - Leadership Development for Practice

Location: York Central Hospital

Corequisite(s): None

Prerequisite(s): CNUR 831

Sept. 15 - Dec. 8, 2011 - 7:00 pm - 9:00 pm

This course will focus on the nurses role in providing leadership and facilitating change in both personal and professional contexts. The aim is to help prepare nursing leaders who are highly competent, knowledgeable, and able to play an integral role in shaping the future of our health care system. Course content will include analysis of theory and concepts related to leadership, followership, change, and effective communication within a diverse workforce. The use of research findings and their application to practice will be emphasized. Students must identify and apply leadership strategies for personal development and professional practice.

Note: In order to take these courses, you must be a Registered Nurse with a current College of Nurses of Ontario Certificate of Competence.

The scheduling reflects the classroom-based instruction. In addition, students are required to participate in a mandatory weekly Internet component.
